

Jo Hobbs Gardener & Designer

Award Winning
As seen on TV

'Don't waste your outside space'

Jo designs domestic gardens, planting schemes and any outside space that needs changing or improving.

Experience

RHS Level 2 Diploma in Horticulture

OU Diploma in Design & Sustainability

BA Hons Leisure Management

In 2018/19 Jo was part of the landscaping team building 20 domestic gardens as part of BBC Garden Rescue, alongside TV's Charlie Dimmock and Dave & Harry Rich, Gold medal winners at the Chelsea Flower Show.

Jo also worked alongside Alan Titchmarsh for ITV 'Love Your Garden'

Jo studied horticulture at Birmingham Botanical Gardens.

A self employed garden designer since 2017, to date Jo has overseen many of her domestic garden designs built and planted.

Jo spent a proud 14 years as a lead performance analyst with West Midlands Police before moving into her new career path.

Services

Design for any outside space; front and back domestic gardens, courtyards, terraces.

Jo carries out assessments of gardens and outside spaces to provide reports on soil, aspect and existing plants, providing the basis for further design and planting services.

Planting schemes that will suit your needs; be it low for maintenance, screening, fragrance, year round interest, to encourage wildlife. Always adhering to the guidelines of 'Right plant, right place'.

Jo can source plants and provide a planting service and then provide a plant care pack and twice a year maintenance schedule.

Project monitoring during the construction of the design.

Domestic and Commercial designs undertaken

Jo can provide soft landscaping plans and reports for architects and developers needing planning permission.

Why Jo Hobbs..

What you get from Jo Hobbs is horticultural knowledge, hands on build experience, experience of working on 20 domestic gardens with Gold medal winning garden designers. Intuition, perception, creativity and a passion to give people the outside space that they want to be in. Jo works in CAD using SketchUp and iPad Pro Concepts and will go that extra mile for you.

